Description

Vintage modernist desk model "Président" designed by Georges Frydman for EFA, French work from 1960-1970. Rectangular teak veneer top resting on a grey lacquered metal tubular structure, with a sober and functional design typical of modernist furniture of this period. The suspended side pedestal opens to reveal two storage drawers with key-operated locking system. The ensemble captivates with its clean lines, minimalist elegance and EFA Nice France craftsmanship. Acknowledged creator of French design in the 1960s, Georges Frydman has created a desk with balanced proportions and a timeless aesthetic. Ideal as a work desk, console or side table in a contemporary, vintage or industrial interior. Beautiful combination of metal and warm wood offering an elegant and refined look. Era:
