Description

Solid walnut Empire/Restoration period low buffet - 19th century
Elegant solid walnut Empire-Restoration period low buffet opening with two doors on the front and a wide drawer on the waist. The piece features a sober, balanced line characteristic of French furniture from the first half of the 19th century. The detached column uprights are embellished with brass rings, adding a beautiful decorative touch of Empire inspiration. Very fine walnut work with warm veins and a beautiful antique patina. The interior reveals a vast storage space with shelving. The bronze or brass keyways and pull handles are original and contribute to the elegance of the whole. Nice quality furniture that could equally well suit a dining room, an entrance hall or a classic, contemporary interior. Good overall
