Description

Louis XV period curved chest of drawers in walnut and elm burl, opening with five drawers over three rows. The curved front features a beautiful burl decoration, offering a particularly lively and warm veining. The curved crosspieces and arched legs give the ensemble an elegant silhouette typical of 18th-century provincial furniture. The drawers are embellished with bronze keyholes and pull knobs. The finely cut moving apron underlines the refinement of this beautifully proportioned commode. French work from the Louis XV period. Dimensions: Width: 133 cm Height: 90 cm Depth: 63 cm Good overall condition with restorations and wear from use, old patina and some marks of time consistent with the age of the piece
