Description

Important Neo-Gothic carved oak entrance checkroom with integrated chest - Late 19th century
Important Neo-Gothic carved oak entrance checkroom, late 19th century work. This remarkable entrance cabinet features monumental architecture adorned with rich molded panels carved with stylized motifs, rosettes, hearts and geometric decorations inspired by Gothic and regionalist art. The upper part is embellished with an openwork gallery and wrought-iron coat hooks for coats and accessories. The lower section conceals a large integrated storage box with lift-up lid, particularly practical for storing shoes, accessories or umbrellas. Also present are metal umbrella-rack bins in the lower section. Beautiful warm patina of solid oak. Furniture that's both decorative and functional. Very fine craftsmanship
