Description

English painter (late 19th century) - River Landscape with Boat. 41 x 61 cm (without frame) - 49 x 70 cm (with frame). Oil on canvas, in gilt wood frame. The painting depicts an intimate river scene set in a wooded landscape with still water and reflections. In the foreground, a flat-bottomed boat loaded with wicker fish traps dominates the composition, with a fisherman bent over the bow at work. In the background, beyond the dense vegetation, the remains of a brick structure -- likely a rural building -- are visible. The palette, dominated by deep greens and ochre tones, reflects the naturalist sensibility of late 19th-century English landscape painting, close to the Barbizon tradition and Victorian plein air practice.
