Description

European painter (19th century) - Landscape with Mill and Stream. 41 x 61 cm (without frame) - 46 x 66 cm (with frame). Oil on canvas, in gilded wooden frame. The painting depicts a river landscape with a watermill, composed according to the conventions of landscape painting in the second half of the 19th century. On the left stands the whitewashed wall of a rustic building with a partially visible water wheel, while on the right dense vegetation frames the scene. In the foreground, a rushing stream flows over emerging rocks, animating the composition with contrasts of light and shadow. The palette, dominated by deep greens, browns, and bright whites in the water and sky, reflects the European 19th-century landscape tradition, with particular attention to the naturalistic rendering of light.
