Description

Rare coffee table base in solid Plexiglas and polished aluminum, attributed to designer Philippe Jean. This emblematic 1970s creation is distinguished by its integrated lighting system diffusing light into the thickness of the Plexiglas, creating a spectacular visual effect. The sculptural structure, composed of thick machined Plexiglas elements assembled around a central aluminum core, perfectly illustrates the designer's research into transparency and light. The glass top presented is not original and remains accessory. The piece's interest lies above all in its luminous base, which allows the purchaser to have a tray made to the dimensions and shape corresponding to his project. France, circa 1970. Attributed to Philippe Jean (1931-1987). Functional lighting. Good overall condition with slight traces
