Description

Small modernist sculpture depicting a stylized figure with slender, expressive forms.The synthetic treatment of volumes, the verticality of the figure and the deliberate simplification of forms evoke certain twentieth-century modernist sculptural research around movement and the human figure.The ensemble presents an aesthetic reminiscent of the work of Ossip Zadkine, particularly in the way it fragments and rhythms the body.The contrast between the dark figure and the light base accentuates the graphic and architectural character of the composition.Height: 20cmCareful shipment possible in France and internationally.
