Description

Napoleon III period mahogany and light wood chest of drawers. opening at the front with four drawers in the lower section and a flap concealing a writing space. The front is punctuated by wide molded panels with an agitated décor, embellished with beautiful finely chased bronze key escutcheons. The slightly projecting uprights and plinth base give the piece a sober, balanced look. The flap reveals a refined interior in light wood (burl), composed of small side drawers and a central niche. The writing surface is sheathed in leather (antique, with traces of use), offering a functional and elegant surface. The fittings and opening system are original. Nice deep patina, warm veining and remarkable craftsmanship. French 19th-century work, in the Louis XIV / Regency taste. Dimensions: Height:
