Description

Superb Quality Late 19th-Century Victorian Drop-End Upholstered Chesterfield Sofa A superb late 19th-century Victorian drop-end Chesterfield sofa of outstanding quality, combining generous proportions, elegant lines and original period detail. This impressive two-seater retains its original horsehair padding and is upholstered in a very good quality period fabric, clean and well preserved with no marks or odours. The frame is in solid mahogany, with beautifully turned front legs terminating in castors, giving both presence and practicality. The classic drop-end mechanism is in perfect working order, allowing the arm to be lowered to create a more relaxed, chaise longue style seating position. With its gracefully curved arms, deep seat and timeless profile, this sofa makes a bold decorative statement while
