Description

I'm pleased to offer you an exceptional series of 5 Standard chairs, designed by the legendary Jean Prouvé and published by Vitra. This model, produced in 2016, embodies the perfect alliance between functionality, timeless elegance and French industrial know-how. The Chaise Standard is much more than just a seat: it's an icon of twentieth-century design, renowned for its revolutionary approach to construction. Jean Prouvé, a self-taught engineer and designer, imagined this model by applying an implacable logic: the rear legs, subjected to the greatest stress, are reinforced by bulky hollow steel tubes, while the front legs, less stressed, make do with a single tube. This bold asymmetry, both aesthetic and technical, makes this chair both robust and lightweight, where every detail has a purpose. The model we offer is particularly rare, as it retains the metal plate engraved with Jean Prouvé's name, an authentic detail that attests to its origin and history. The seat and backrest, available in solid wood or veneer (natural oak), harmonize with a lacquered steel frame, offering a texture to suit all interiors, from the most classic to the most contemporary. This series is ideal for lovers of industrial design, collectors, or simply those looking for durable, timeless pieces steeped in history. Whether for a dining room, office, or reception space, these chairs will bring a touch of authenticity and refinement to your interior. Don't miss the opportunity to acquire these 5 Standard chairs with their beautiful patina, an investment in the French art of living, combining aesthetics, functionality and design heritage.
