19th Century Libertin Table In Marble And Bronze With Double Patinefin

1 100 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Bronze

Width : 20 cm

Height : 27 cm

Description

Rare decorative panel with gallant and libertine subjects dating from the late 19th century.This elegant composition takes the form of a large moving slab of griotte red marble, probably Italian, set in a bronze mount.In the center is a remarkable bronze in high relief with double patina depicting a couple dressed in 18th-century fashion in a gallant scene inspired by the libertine universe dear to the artists of the Louis XV century.The two figures are seated on a Rocaille-style chair and exchange a passionate kiss. The quality of the chasing allows us to appreciate numerous details: powdered hairstyles, jewelry, shoe buckles, trimmings, costume buttons and ornaments.The particularly lively modeling, combined with the nuanced gilding and burnished parts, gives the ensemble a remarkable

Dealer

Antoine Claeys - Maison du XVème
antiquaire généraliste
Mobile : 06 85 53 27 42

24 grande Rue
Nogent l'Artaud 02 310

decorative presence.A characteristic object of the late 19th-century historicist taste for 18th-century galant scenes, on the border between curiosa, collector's item and refined decoration.Please note: a small accident to the marble in the lower left corner, approx. 2 cm by 0.5 cm, visible in the photographs.Dimensions:Height: 27 cmWidth: 20 cmLate 19th century.We deliver and ship worldwide, please contact us for a precise quote.