Description

This rare and elegant designer table lamp was designed in the 1940s by Giovanni Michelucci and produced by Lariolux. Its iconic Italian design combines functionality, elegance and industrial style. Thanks to its weighted round base and two adjustable ball-and-socket joints, the lamp is easy to orientate and lends itself to all situations, as a desk lamp or reading lamp. Its authentic patina underlines its vintage character and unique appearance. A design classic for lovers of Italian design, vintage lighting and timeless objects. Perfect for a desk, reading nook or refined interior. Good antique condition, showing traces of wear, patina, marks and imperfections consistent with its age and use, as illustrated in the photographs.
