Description

Small Renaissance oak sideboard XVIIIe century . solid oak buffet opening with two doors richly carved with profiles of helmeted men inscribed in molded panels. The decoration, directly inspired by the ornamental vocabulary of the French Renaissance, is completed by finely executed geometric motifs and stylized foliage. The top, with its projecting frame, is highlighted by an elegant carved frieze running along the upper belt. The sides are panelled, while the interior retains a shelf offering functional storage. With its balanced dimensions and beautiful decorative presence, this piece of furniture perfectly illustrates the permanence of Renaissance forms in French provincial furniture of the XVIIIe century. The quality of the oak, the antique joints and the deep patina acquired over time enhance
