Description

Juan Clara Ayats. Girl in a High Chair. A finely observed cabinet bronze depicting a small child seated in a high chair, captured at the moment when quiet repose turns into restless movement. The sculpture is cast, chased and patinated bronze. The figure is rendered with notable sensitivity: tousled hair, rounded cheeks, soft limbs and the loose folds of the dress are modelled with vivid naturalism, while retaining a refined decorative character. The work accords with the known production of Juan Clara Ayats, a Spanish sculptor particularly associated with patinated bronze figures of children. Signed Juan Clara and numbered on the reverse of the chair. Origin: Spain. Period: First half of the 20th century. Artist: Juan Clara Ayats. Material: Bronze, cast, chased and patinated. Signature: Signed Juan
