

Set Of Three Meissen Porcelain Plates With Streublumen Decoration, Germany, 1880s

500 EUR

Signature : Meissen

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Ceramic

Diameter : 24 cm

Height : 3 cm

Description

A set of three late 19th-century Meissen porcelain plates decorated with the celebrated Streublumen pattern.

Each plate features individually hand-painted floral sprays and scattered blossoms executed in bright polychrome enamels. The elegant asymmetrical decoration is framed by gently shaped rims highlighted with fine gilding.

The Streublumen pattern originated at Meissen during the 18th century and became one of the factory's most successful and enduring decorative designs. Inspired by botanical studies and naturalistic floral painting, it remains one of the most recognisable motifs associated with Meissen porcelain.

The reverse of each plate bears the underglaze blue crossed swords mark. Despite condition

Dealer

Gillers Antiques

Specialists in 19th-century European silverware, porcelain and décor

Mobile : +44 7738009924

Buntingford SG9 0PY

issues, the set retains strong decorative appeal and displays beautifully.

Measurements

Diameter: 24 cm

Height: 3 cm

Combined weight: 1659 g

Condition

Very good antique condition. Plate 1 has a crack and signs of repair. Plate 2 has a hairline crack and repair. Plate 3 has a hairline crack, a small chip to the rim and three small cracks to the base rim. All plates show wear consistent with age and use. The decoration remains bright and attractive throughout.

Shipping & Packaging

Fully tracked and insured delivery.

Shipping cost includes professional packaging, careful handling and secure postage.

Carefully packed using recycled materials where possible.

Please study all photographs as they form part of the description.

Questions are welcome.