Description

A pair of Art Deco Italian bedside tables from the 1920s, crafted in finely grained walnut and carefully restored to their original elegance. Each piece features an arched door adorned with a distinctive handle, a refined detail typical of early Italian modernist design. Sculptural legs, with flared profiles and rounded feet topped with brushed metal, give the pieces a strong architectural presence while preserving harmonious proportions. The rich walnut finish highlights the natural grain and depth of the wood, creating a warm contrast with the metal accents. These bedside tables are a wonderful illustration of the craftsmanship and stylistic innovation of Italian Art Deco furniture: bold and balanced, decorative and functional. Condition: professionally restored; slight traces of
