Description

Elegant Belgian Art Deco side table attributed to De Coene, circa 1925. It features a richly grained walnut structure in a refined oval silhouette, resting on a central base. The top is polished red marble with natural cream and gray veins, offering a luxurious contrast to the warmth of the wood. The pedestal rests on a square base with subtle decorative details, characteristic of De Coene craftsmanship, where architectural precision meets sculptural harmony. This table embodies the refinement of Belgian Art Deco design: balanced proportions, noble materials and discreet ornamentation. Condition: slight signs of use in keeping with its age.
