

Summer Hora, Cast Zinc Statue, Late 19th Century

15 500 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Other

Width : 81

Height : 186

Depth : 56

Description

Life-size cast zinc statue of a young woman dressed in classical drapery and holding a scroll, with a wicker basket filled with fruit at her side. One arm is missing. The figure probably represents one of the Horae, who traditionally embody spring, summer and autumn - in this case, the allegory of summer. The sculpture has undergone extensive professional restoration and has been mounted on a custom-made base.

Provenance: Royal Danish Horticultural Society

Dealer

EHRL fine art & antiques

Antiques

Tel : 0049 (0) 84639545

Mobile : 0049 (0) 1715312506

Nürnberger Str., 1

Greiding 91171