Description

A decorative work of art from the early 20th century, imbued with exotic charm and historical significance.Among my exclusive antique offerings, this exceptional piece stands out: a splendid set consisting of a matching column and vase holder, crafted from fine white clay and entirely hand-painted. Dating from the period between 1910 and 1920 in America, the piece is distinguished by its use of natural pigments and colors in warm, inviting shades of green and copper.The design is masterfully finished with rich relief decorations reminiscent of sinuous palm leaves and sturdy decorative studs, elements that evoke the eclectic elegance and Arts and Crafts influences typical of the era. A sculptural piece capable of transforming a corner of your home into an oasis of timeless class.Thanks to its
