Description

SUITE OF FOUR EARLY XVIIIe CENTURY DIRECTOIRE CHAIRS IN WALNUTSuite of four late XVIIIe century period Directoire chairs, crafted in fine walnut.They feature an elegant fan-shaped openwork back, framed by tapered uprights finished with carved pine cones, an emblematic model of the Directoire period. The turned and fluted legs are joined by finely worked struts, testifying to the care taken in their manufacture.The straw-covered seats, in perfect keeping with the spirit of these seats, underline their authenticity and timeless charm. The ensemble benefits from a beautiful antique patina and an excellent decorative presence. With their harmonious proportions, these chairs are the perfect complement to any home.By their harmonious proportions and the quality of their
