Description

"Arcadian Landscapes" 18th-Century Roman School Pair of oil paintings on canvas Antique carved and gilded wooden frames Canvases: 61 x 49 cm Frames: 80 x 68 Excellent condition, still on the original canvas A magnificent pair of Arcadian Landscapes depicting river views, dancing female figures, a bridge with a castle, fortified villages, and ruins from classical antiquity scattered across the meadow. It is a setting of ideal beauty, offering an idyllic panorama with lush nature and a luminous atmosphere characterized by golden hues. The artist behind these two works was active in Rome during the second half of the 18th century and excelled in depicting landscapes with a strongly naturalistic style. The substantial, richly carved, and gilded frames are of remarkable beauty and
