Description

Pair of Gilt Bronze Louis XVI style Wall Sconces, manufactured circa 1820-1850

These two-arm wall sconces, typical of the Louis XVI style, embody the elegance and aesthetic rigor of late 18th-century France. Their refined yet understated decor highlights classical motifs: a flame-shaped finial, a fluted and reeded stem, and laurel twists, symbols of victory and nobility. The chiseled and gilded bronze, with its remarkably well-preserved original gilding, showcases the exceptional craftsmanship of the period. Originating from the Château de l'Abbaye, these pieces bring authenticity and prestige to any interior.
