Description

A rare and elegant caviar service created for the House of Christian Dior, exemplifying the refinement of tableware in the second half of the 20th century. This remarkable creation combines the nobility of hammered solid silver with the luminous purity of crystal in a composition that is both functional and exceptionally decorative. The circular main container, with its two side handles, is designed to hold ice, keeping the caviar at the perfect serving temperature. It is topped with a removable lid to preserve the freshness of the contents. Inside, a delicate crystal caviar bowl is surrounded by six crystal vodka glasses,
