Description

A superb French Art Deco coffee table from the 1930s, crafted in richly grained yew burl and adorned with a floral inlaid panel of exceptional quality. The table is entirely veneered in beautifully selected yew burl, revealing the characteristic swirling grain, warm honey tones and intricate veining for which this wood is renowned. At the center of the top is an exquisite inlaid panel depicting a basket of roses, skillfully executed using contrasting veneers and demonstrating the exceptional craftsmanship characteristic of the finest French decorative furniture of the period. The elegant architectural base is composed of four gracefully curved uprights that rise from a contoured plinth, creating a striking sculptural silhouette from every angle. The flowing curves of the supports
