Description

A harmoniously proportioned French Art Deco pedestal desk from the 1930s, crafted in richly grained Honduras rosewood and featuring the elegant simplicity that characterizes the finest furniture of the period. This desk features a unique pedestal base that is both practical and aesthetically pleasing, with four drawers of varying sizes on the left side and a longer drawer positioned above the leg space. The drawer fronts are veneered in striking rosewood with striking mirror grain patterns, enhanced by circular metal handles that underline the understated Art Deco character of the whole. The raised gallery at the rear of the writing surface is particularly attractive: an original element that provides both visual interest and appreciable functionality, allowing papers and documents to be neatly stored. The desk rests on a simple plinth, whose base is adorned with a discreet ebony molding, creating an elegant contrast with the warmth and depth of the rosewood veneer. Assembled using the traditional dovetail assembly technique, this desk illustrates the high-quality craftsmanship typical of French cabinetmaking of this period. This piece has been fully restored and professionally polished, revealing the exceptional color and grain of Honduras rosewood while preserving its authenticity. Compact yet highly functional, this desk will fit perfectly into an office, bedroom or Art Deco interior, offering both practical storage space and timeless style.
