Description

Set of 6 Pierre Cruège 1950's chairs
Set of six French chairs from the 1950's, with a sober, well-balanced design. Structure in light wood, with horizontal bar backs that lighten the silhouette while providing good support. Braided rope seats, forming a pleasing herringbone pattern, typical of the period. Slightly tapered legs, elegant proportions: perfect around a dining table, in a vintage or contemporary interior. Beautiful homogeneous set, decorative and functional, sought-after for its mid-century style. Pierre Cruège (France, 20th century) is appreciated for simple, well-proportioned furniture, blending comfort and clean lines. His work is part of the post-war French revival, with pieces thought for use and durability. Discover all our other products
