Description

An elegant table clock from the early 19th century, crafted in white marble and gilded bronze, featuring a refined design with a cherub and decorative motifs in the Neoclassical style. The case rests on a white marble base embellished with rich inlays and finely chiseled gilded bronze feet. The movement is signed and features a two-hammer striking mechanism, a feature that enhances its collectible value. The clock is in good overall condition considering its age, with normal signs of aging and use. The mechanism has not been recently serviced and therefore its operation cannot be guaranteed; a professional service is recommended.
