Description

Small carved pine mountain table - 19th century. This charming small rustic mountain table, crafted from solid pine, likely dates from the second half of the 19th century. It captivates with its authentic character and finely hand-carved folk art decoration. The front features elegant geometric and scale-like patterns, while the drawer handle, adorned with two scrolls reminiscent of snail shells, adds a charmingly naive and decorative touch. The tabletop, made of wide, antique planks, retains a beautiful patina of age, showcasing knots, natural cracks, and signs of wear. The slightly angled legs give it a silhouette typical of traditional mountain furniture. The drawer is functional and provides practical storage. This small table would be perfect as a side table, bedside table, end table, or
