Description

A beautifully decorative circa 1920s Chinese coffee table, finished in rich red lacquer and adorned with intricate gilt detailing across the top surface. The rectangular top features traditional hand-decorated scenes and symbolic motifs, set against a deep crimson ground with a softly aged patina that gives the piece wonderful character and authenticity. The gilt decoration includes figural and floral scenes, bordered by repeating symbolic patterns, creating a striking and highly decorative surface that immediately draws the eye. The craquelure to the lacquer adds depth and charm, reflecting the age and craftsmanship of the piece while enhancing its original decorative appeal. Raised on simple square legs with shaped stretchers and open side supports, the table retains a balanced and elegant silhouette typical of early
