Description

A rare, richly carved, painted, and gilded wooden swivel armchair in the Renaissance style. The semi-circular back and armrest supports display a repertoire of ornamentation typical of the 16th century, characterized by carvings of scrolling foliage, stylized plant motifs, and grotesque masks. The swivel seat rests on a four-legged base with sculpted and undulating uprights. The antique patina reveals a polychromy combining colored pigments with gold highlights that emphasize the reliefs and the dynamic lines of the wood carving..
