Description

This large solar boat rower belonged to Jean and Huguette Ramié in 1982. Friends of Picasso and publishers of ceramics, they were also dealers in archaeological and tribal art. A certificate from Andrey Roger, dated November 29, 1982, will be given to the buyer. This statuette has red skin and wears a short white loincloth. The face has simple features and large eyes surrounded by a short black wig. It expresses a powerful presence. The polychromy is original. Comparative literature: J.
