Description

Oil on canvas by Louise CHIMOT (1891 - 1955). This woman painter was a pupil of Sabatté. She was a member of the Artistes Français, and also exhibited at the Salon des Tuilleries. This oil on canvas was also exhibited in a salon, and bears 2 stamps on the stretcher with the date 1932, but the name of the salon cannot be identified. Exhibition label also on the back. This oil on canvas, signed lower left, depicts a Fô dog in pretty shades of blue, an object representative of China and the Buddhist cult. It is presented in a rich interior with wood-paneled walls. Louise CHIMOT lived in Barcelona and executed several still lifes and portraits full of originality and charm. This painting is in its original condition, with a few varnish runs on the bottom and a small crack in the central bar of the
