Description

Empire chest of drawers with detached columns in solid walnut and flamed walnut veneerFrance, first half of the XIXe century, circa 1810-1830Elegant Empire period chest of drawers opening with 4 drawers on the front, made of solid walnut and remarkably veined flamed walnut veneer. The front is punctuated by two detached columns with chased bronze rings, an emblematic feature of Empire furniture.The drawers feature a carefully assembled veneer in symmetrical sheets highlighting the natural patterns of the wood. The top drawer is adorned with a gilded bronze applique featuring two confronting swans framing a central trophy, a decoration typical of the Imperial repertoire. The locks are embellished with original bronze escutcheons and retain their trefoil keys.The
