Description

Polychrome ceramic vase with fish, Vallauris - 1950s. The body of the vase is entirely hand-decorated with an evocative and elegant figurative marine motif. The surface features finely detailed polychrome fish set against a stylized aquatic flora. The color palette ranges from the warm shades of ochre and beige in the background to shades of green and burnt brown at the base, creating a rich and textured visual effect. This piece perfectly embodies the artistic vitality of the Vallauris district in the 1950s and 1960s, a golden age marked by the influence of the great masters of the 20th century and characterized by extraordinary experimentation with glazes and forms. Dimensions: H 26 cm, Diam. 14 cm, Excellent condition. It features the normal and charming patina of age, consistent
