Description

An elegant Neapolitan devotional sculpture carved from wood, depicting the iconography of the Madonna and Child, 18th century. The Virgin is depicted standing on a cloud-shaped base, a symbolic element that elevates the figure to a heavenly dimension. The Infant Jesus, resting on her left arm, is depicted in a lively and natural pose. The faces feature glass eyes. The sculpture has been repainted on the surface, beneath which the original paint likely remains.
