Description

Rare set of twelve large crystal tumblers, straight-sided, featuring the characteristic decoration of the so-called "SS" model, defined by deep twisted flutes at the base and fine vertical cuts at the centre.
These tumblers, wide and heavy (approx. 470 g each), belong to the production of the Charles X period (circa 1825-1835), a time when the Baccarat and Saint-Louis glassworks produced very similar models, often impossible to attribute with certainty to one manufactory rather than the other.Condition: very good overall condition; no chips, sharp cutting and excellent brilliance.
