Description

Rare set of twelve crystal wine glasses, featuring the characteristic decoration of the so-called "SS" model, defined by deep twisted flutes at the base of the bowl, fine vertical cuts on the central part of the bowl, and a star-cut foot.

This glasses belong to the production of the Charles X period (circa 1825-1835), a time when the Baccarat and Saint-Louis glassworks produced very similar models, often impossible to attribute with certainty to one manufactory rather than the other. Condition: very good overall condition; no chips or other defects to report.
