Description

Tutti Frutti bracelet, emerald cabochon, rubies, sapphires and diamonds, 18k gold Articulated Tutti Frutti bracelet in 18k white gold, composed of a series of diamond-paved links. The jewel is centered on a large emerald cabochon weighing approx. 10 cts. It is set in a closed setting, surrounded by engraved ruby and sapphire leaves set in yellow gold claws. Diamond-studded emerald pearls complete the composition. The articulation system between links and motifs gives the bracelet a notable flexibility of wear. Ring and snap closure, almost invisible in the line of the jewelry. Modern work, in the spirit of Tutti Frutti creations of the 1930s.

Tutti Frutti bracelet is in very good overall condition. There are no missing stones.The central emerald cabochon, set in a closed setting - which protects it effectively - has a beautiful transparency. Rather light in color, it intensifies noticeably with the warmth of the wrist and under natural light. Its domed shape effectively captures reflections. There are a few internal inclusions, inevitable in a natural emerald of this size - the gardens that gemologists recognize as a signature of authenticity. One or two slight chips are present, without weakening the stone or compromising its integrity.The rubies, of a sustained, even red color, and the sapphires, of an equally even hue, form a balanced color accord that enhances the central cabochon without competing with it. The emerald pearls, slightly deeper in color than the cabochon, give coherent rhythm to the whole. A few natural inclusions on the colored stones have no effect on aesthetics.

The diamonds are white, with no gaps or bumps.A bracelet that wears flat on the wrist, with a beautiful presence without rigidity. A dressy bracelet that will match many outfits.
