Description

Solid oak chest, 18th-century French rustic work. The front features an elegant décor of molded panels with moving reserves, framed by turned uprights in the spirit of Louis XIII. The opening lid reveals a large storage space, typical of wedding chests or country house chests. The fully pegged construction and panelled back bear witness to old-fashioned traditional craftsmanship. The sober, balanced lines, combined with the beautiful brown patina of the oak, give this piece lots of character and authenticity. This chest can be used as a storage unit, end-of-bed chest or coffee table in a rustic, classic or contemporary interior. Era: 18th century Origin: France Material: solid oak Dimensions: approx.
