Description

Travertine column base. Medieval period. Originating from central Italy, this base was likely intended to support a cloister column given its dimensions. Constructed in four courses, three of which are circular in section and one (the lower one) square in section, the latter is missing three of its four corners. Various missing pieces and chips do not detract from the piece's charm or its potential placement. Dimensions: 28.5 x 28 x 13.5 cm (H)
