

Carlo X Mirror In Gilded Bronze And Crystal With Musical Mechanism, Circa 1820

2 800 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Crystal

Width : 22

Diameter : 19

Height : 53

Description

An elegant Charles X-era dressing table mirror, circa 1820, crafted from mercury-gilded bronze and diamond-cut crystal. The mirror conceals a musical mechanism with two interchangeable tunes within its base; it is complete with a key and in working order. During the Charles X era, Paris saw the development of luxury items in crystal and gilded bronze, such as dressing sets, caskets, clocks, and candlesticks. Our mirror belongs to this category of objects and is a splendid example of it. Finely chiseled and gilded with mercury, it features a double-sided mirror; the mirror, polished with silver powder, is the original. On the side of the base, two levers are visible: one starts and stops the musical mechanism, while the other changes the melody. The mirror is in excellent condition. To find out

Dealer

International Antiques

Sculpture, Painting, Clock, Art Objects

Tel : 0039 3804379898 Nous parlons Français

Via della Nave 8

Pistoia 51100

moreVideo available hereDimensionsH 53 cmW

max 22 cmBase 10.5 x 10 cm,5Mirror depth: 19

cm+++++

+++++

+++++Shipping

via trusted carrier or in a wooden crate via

MBEPayment methods: Bank transfer - Online

credit card (including AMEX) via Nexi-pay link -

PayPal (+3.7%) - No

checks<https://internationalantiques.eu/it/consegna>

-e-assicurazione/

+++++

+++++

+++++