Description

A striking French Art Deco centre table, beautifully constructed in solid mahogany and defined by its sculptural form and balanced proportions. The shaped circular top features a softly contoured edge, lending gentle movement to the surface while allowing the natural warmth and grain of the timber to take centre stage. Beneath, the table is supported by six elegant U-shaped uprights, each flowing smoothly from the underside of the top down toward the base. These curved supports create a strong sense of rhythm and symmetry, giving the piece a distinctive architectural quality while maintaining an open, airy feel. The uprights terminate into a finely turned circular base, adding both visual weight and excellent stability. The craftsmanship is evident throughout, from the precision of the shaping to the confident handling of solid mahogany. The table has been fully restored and professionally polished, resulting in a rich, even finish that enhances the depth and character of the wood while preserving its original integrity. This is a versatile and refined piece, ideal as a centre table or coffee table within an elegant living room or thoughtfully curated interior, equally suited to classic Art Deco schemes or more contemporary settings seeking warmth and form.
