Description

This elegant contemporary signet ring is crafted in sterling silver and adorned with a beautiful oval-shaped natural lapis lazuli. The depth of its intense blue, punctuated by delicate golden pyrite inclusions, gives this jewel a character that is both sober and refined. The sleek frame features a modern design inspired by the traditional signet ring. Its perfectly proportioned oval top highlights the stone without excess, while the soft, slightly curved shoulders ensure comfortable wear on a daily basis. The setting features a modern design inspired by the traditional signet ring. Lapis lazuli, a stone prized since ancient times for its ultramarine color, was already used by Egyptians, Persians and Renaissance artists for its unique brilliance. A timeless ring, elegant both worn on its own and paired with other silver
