Ceruse Plaster Frame - XIXe Century, Circa 1880 - High Relief, Brass Hooping

390 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Plaster

Diameter : 13

Depth : 3,5

Description

Cerused plaster frame - XIXe century, circa 1880 - High relief, brass hoopingFrench decorative art of the Napoleon III periodSmall frame in collector's size, in cerused plaster / patinated stucco, French work circa 1880, featuring a finely modeled high relief in original brass hooping.The scene depicts a neoclassical allegorical group, treated in high relief with supple, expressive modeling.In the center, a draped female figure, seated or slightly reclined, adopts a protective posture. Around her, several children or putti crowd around, some standing, others curled up against her, in a very harmonious circular composition.The attitudes are varied: one child raises his arm towards her, another leans against her leg, a third seems to be playing or holding out an object.The whole evokes an allegory of

Dealer

Les Vieux Seigneurs
généraliste 18 et 19ème Siècle
Mobile : 0664587869

Terranjou 49380

maternal tenderness and abundance typical of late XIXe century decorative productions.On the reverse, a hanging ring allows for immediate wall display.The relief, with its beautiful depth, highlights a decorative scene typical of the late XIXe century, treated with precise modeling and a soft patina emphasizing the volumes.DimensionsDiameter: 13 cmDepth: 3.5 cmCondition: Very good overall condition, no missing parts, even patina, well-preserved brass, ready to hang.