Description

Oil on canvas painting by Guy Séradour depicting a young girl at the racecourse. Very fine painting, 77 by 90 cm framed. Guy Séradour was a great painter born in 1922 and died in 2007. He took part in numerous major salons and was represented by the Place Beauvau art gallery along with other great artists as early as 1958. He is represented in numerous museums, including the Paris Museum of Modern Art, the Oran Museum and the Marseille Museum. He divided his time between Paris, Cannes and Deauville. Member of the artistic council of the Fondation Pierre de Monaco. This is one of his most beautiful masterpieces, delicately depicting a young girl with a parasol watching a horse race. Very fine rendering of the face, with excellent glazing. Charming atmosphere of the
