Description

Charming Louis XVI-style hot-water bottle lamp, made in the 20th century, featuring a painted tin lampshade decorated with floral garlands, ribbons and bows on a blue background, with gilded interior. The silver-plated metal base features an elegant silhouette inspired by 18th-century designs. The whole retains a beautiful antique patina with some wear to the silver plating and slight stabilized oxidation on the lampshade, perfectly consistent with its age and decorative charm. In order to offer it a freer, more contemporary use, this lamp has been fitted in our workshop with a pair of USB-rechargeable LED candles. This solution enables it to be used wirelessly to compose a table setting, create a warm ambience in a library, bedroom or living room, while avoiding the regular consumption of
