Description

19th c. charcoal -- Portrait of a lady in puffed-sleeve dress and lace bonnet, c. 1830-1840 Italian or French school, second quarter of the 19th century Three-quarter portrait of a woman in a puffed-sleeve dress, lace fichu and frilled bonnet, executed in charcoal and black pencil on laid paper. The free, confident draughtsmanship -- particularly evident in the handling of fabrics and lace -- points to an academically trained artist working from life. Preserved under tissue paper. The sheet belongs to a group of three female portraits of identical format, technique and hand, most likely depicting members of the same family. Sheet dimensions: 24 x 19 cm. Light foxing, overall good condition.
