

Pair Of Antique Glasses With An Embedded Coin

80 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Glass

Height : 13

Description

A pair of blown glass goblets, each featuring a stem adorned with a hollow spherical knot that encloses an authentic coin, embedded in the glass during the manufacturing process. The coins are British specimens bearing the effigy of George V (1910-1936). These two glasses were likely made between 1930 and 1950, a period when the inclusion of objects within glass was a very popular decorative practice. Condition: one of the two glasses has a small chip on the rim (as visible in the last photo); otherwise, it is in excellent condition.
