Description

Mino Maccari (1898-1989) was a renowned Italian painter, engraver, and journalist, a leading figure in 20th-century culture. The work, created in oil on canvas around 1960, measures 40 x 35 cm. It is accompanied by a non-contemporary frame with glass, measuring 58,5 x 54 cm. The painting depicts a woman's face, rendered with thick brushstrokes and warm tones in stark contrast to the cool tones of the background. The work bears a label and stamps on the back from the La Chiocciola art gallery in Padua. The condition is good, with some wear due to age and use. The signature "Maccari" is present in the lower left corner.
